PN UP BOY (Nothing exposed!) It's okay! It's okay!

This is the oldest work of this comic, so it was drawn a little... (^^)

When I found out that it was going to be included in the publication, I felt like I was in a bit of a distress. I had no idea what to do!
However, regardless of everything else, it was included in the end because I really liked this story.

After reading the story, I hope you felt that 'Yes! Compared to the past, my art has definitely improved a little!' The inspiration for the story came from a song about street art. The title of the story was also copied, but I don't know who the song belongs to! Haha! The glasses were a component of the art that was hard to balance when drawing. They had to fit the eyes of the male main character. Even after all of my effort, I feel like the glasses were drawn so big that it's ridiculous, which is why I am still not too keen on drawing glasses.
(Can I still be considered a professional?)

As a side note, for me, I still prefer guys that don't wear glasses in comparison to those that do wear them.
They're awesome!

On another side note, I love receiving fan letters!

It's the same when I'm drawing a comic. I would like to continue receiving letters from fans of my work. Receiving letters is like a dream, so I am always touched when I get one. I will always respond back with a postcard that is well designed to any letters, so do feel free to mail me your opinions and comments!

Then, I'll see you next time! Aisumi Miyajima
